Articles
Unique Poetry on Five Ragamala Paintings in the National Gallery of Victoria: Rhyme, Alliteration and Rhythm in Couplets of Great Intensity and Charm. Reis W. Flora ........... 5
The Tudbulul: Structure and Poetics in a Filipino Oral Epic. Manolete Mora ........................................ 31
Mirasis: Some Thoughts on Hereditary Musicians in Hindustani Music. Adrian McNeil...... 45
Musical Nature: Vocalisations of the Australian Magpie (Gymnorhina tibicen tyrannica). Emma Rose Roper ................................................................................................................. 59
Brass Bands and Orchestras in New Zealand: Band Participation as Seen by Orchestral Brass Musicians. Dan Bendarups and Gareth Hoddinott .......................................................... 73
‘If You Don’t Sing, Friends Will Say You are Proud’: How and Why Kam People Learn to Sing Kam Big Song. Catherine Ingram .................................................................................... 85
‘When Everybody there Together … then I Call that One’: Song Order in the Kimberley. Sally Treloyn ................................................................................................................................ 105

Reviews
Mervyn McLean, Pioneers of Ethnomusicology
Reviewed by David Goldsworthy ........................................................................................................ 123

Notes on Contributors .................................................................................................................... 131
Guidelines for Contributors ............................................................................................................ 133